You can help to bring the global movement that's good for your skills, the environment and your local community to Bromsgrove & Droitwich!

Do you live in the Bromsgrove or Droitwich area? Would you like to improve your craft skills, start a new hobby, make, repair and share DIY skills? That's what the Makerspace movement is all about. Some folk call it "hackspace" but it's really nothing to do with computer hackers, so... Makerspace it is!

STARTING SMALL

Some Makerspaces are well-equipped workshops: non-profit Community Interest Companies with loads of members, fancy tools and regular craft evenings. Even these guys started small, with like-minded groups from the local community meeting up in a pub to chat, plan and help each other out with projects. Interested?

LOCAL COMMUNITY

To see if there's enough local interest, a community group has been set up to discuss, plan and (hopefully!) eventually get something up and running in THIS AREA. To find out more, visit Facebook or Twitter (links below), or search for "Bromsgrove & Droitwich Makerspace" on Google Groups. Join us, and let's see what we can do together!
